What we say below about the "New Mayor" goes. We wish him well.

Good morning, Mr. New Mayor. You have a man's size job to do. The people have selected you from three other good men to serve as the chief executive of Grenada.

This is being published before we know who you are, and whether we voted for you or not; but, be that as it may, YOU are OUR Mayor too.

Before you are four weeks in office, this city will be deluged with problems that none of our citizens, who have not seen an army of workmen and a lesser army of parasites that feed upon the workers descend upon a city, can really appreciate. Your tact and your good judgment are going to be strained to the uttermost in the difficult task ahead of you.

These extraordinary duties thrust upon you by the incoming army of workmen are in addition to the ordinary duties of your office which, if properly attended to, would keep you on your toes.

If Grenada, which has always been a stable community, is to retain its identity, you, Mr. New Mayor, should preach the gospel that "camp is near Grenada, not that Grenada is near the camp." Grenada, we all hope, will be a stable community when peace comes. You can be a stabilizing force in welcoming the "strangers within our gates," you helping preserve Grenada as a stable community.

Mr. New Mayor, we congratulate you on your laudable desire to serve your city during this critical period and pledge our support in any laudable undertaking.

There are very good reasons to believe that a two-squadron air field will be established by the government in the Hascorway area. Nothing is yet definite.

We understand, effective midnight Wednesday night, no more lumber could be sold by the mills except to the government.

While some road work is being done, and some building of spur tracks and the building of a few temporary buildings between the highway and the I. C. this side of Elliott are in progress, there is a lull before the storm in the camp area. We understand that three truck loads of plans were dispatched to Vicksburg this week, and sets of these plans are being distributed among potential bidders on various major phases of the construction work. We also understand that about 15 days will be allowed for the contractors to make their estimates and submit their bids. It is our personal opinion that by June 1st, this community will be deluged with workmen and their families and with the parasites, prostitutes and pimps that prey upon the workmen. So much for the progress of the camp.

We wish to remind the contractors that we do printing, and will appreciate the opportunity of bidding on any orders. Our primary responsibility is getting out this newspaper, and never willingly expect to lower its standards, but we have lots of time to produce job printing, of which we have been favored with almost as much as we can turn out.

The GCW contributes its space—the only thing it has to sell—freely to the "drives," such as USO, Scouts, etc., and it should not be expected to contribute money. If you were getting up things for a family whose house had been destroyed, you would not expect Abe Isenberg, for instance, to contribute shoes, stockings and teddies, and ALSO money. In short you would not expect ANYONE to contribute both goods and money. Remember, the ONLY THING a newspaper has to sell is its space.

Col. Gunby, an old Clemson man, and I, an old Ga. Tech man, got along splendidly during a recent trip.

Our son Andrew makes this offer to the fellow who stole his bicycle: bring back the bicycle, take my Chevrolet car, and no questions will be asked.

Thus ends Corrigan. Valiant soldiers of the richest nation on earth having to surrender because of lack of food and ammunition. Write your own opinion of the Congress which permitted this!!

NUMBER FORTY-ONE

Surveying and Planning Of The Camp Area, a Gigantic Task

(By W. W. W.)
The layman cannot possibly appreciate the gigantic task that the Chas. T. Main Company undertook when it engaged in the work of surveying the Grenada camp area, and in drawing the enormous number of plans necessary for the contractors to make intelligent plans upon the proposed work. Last Thursday night I was privileged to go with Major John C. Wade, Area Engineer, and Mr. R. Semmes, to Greenwood Village to the plans for the camp are prepared. There we met Col. Gunby, the "big boss" of the Main Company and Mr. Safford, head of the Main activities in Greenwood. First let it be said that these men, though charged with enormous responsibility, are very, very human persons. I could not help but note that each of them, in passing some draftsman or worker, was prone to say, "Well, Bill, how are things going?" or some such friendly greeting.

It so happened that, the night work is customary in the Greenwood office only a small number of the hundreds who work there were busy that night. The immediate task upon which the energy of the organization was then concentrated was the reproduction of the original drawings into blue prints, brown prints or any other kind of prints that could be speedily made. But, even if Thursday night was an "off" night, there must have been over a hundred men working. An enormous amount of floor space was necessary in the work in Greenwood. The ground floor of a building larger than Keeton's, the third floor of a building fully as great as that, and the municipal armory were all crowded to capacity. The latter area was filled with parallel lines of tables upon which a number of men and girls were assembling complete sets of plans.

The ground floor of the first named building seemed to contain the executive offices as well as a large number of drafting tables, also equipment for producing plans from the original drawings. I was intrigued by two machines, the first of which made faint yellow lines from the tracing, and the second which changed these faint lines to clear brown lines. The second area—the third floor of another building—seemed to be devoted entirely to drafting and planning. I could not help but admire the aerial map of the area, which had been so skillfully pieced together from sections of many aerial photographs.

The enormous amount of detail drawings which will permit the contractor to visualize exactly what is wanted, exactly where each corner is located, exactly where each electric pole is to be spotted, the shape, dimensions and optional material of every member of every structure, represents the field work of a large number of survey parties and the work of a large number of men in the field office at Glenwood and the unrelenting "fight against the dead line" at the Greenwood office.

To coordinate all of this work requires real genius, not only of the head man, Col. Gunby, Mr. Safford and Mr. Thayer at Glenwood, but also of the party chiefs and other minor officials, as well as the loyalty and endurance of the lesser employees in the field and office.

The Main Company has won a gigantic fight against time.

Grenada County Committee Ready For May 11th Start

Mrs. J. K. Avent, Grenada, chairman of District Four which includes Grenada, states that each of the four counties in this district is ready and waiting for the opening of the USO War Fund Campaign on May 11th and predicts that this district quota will be reached long before May 23rd. District 4 includes the counties of Grenada, Calhoun, Montgomery and Yalobusha.

In Grenada county, Mr. E. L. Morrow, Grenada, has accepted the chairmanship and announces the following co-workers. This county's quota is $1,250 and County Chairman Morrow feels that it will be reached the first week of the campaign as local citizens do their part for the men behind the guns. "You help someone you know when you help USO," stated Mr. Morrow in discussing local plans.

Progress of the USO War Fund Campaign in this county will be published from time to time as the drive progresses.

Other members of this county's USO Committee are: Rev. Glen E. Wiley, Director, Grenada; Mrs. W. W. Whitaker, Publicity, Grenada; Mr. L. D. Boone, Treasurer, Grenada.

Help us keep Greenfield and Horn out of devilment this week end by rushing in the job orders.

Alint they sweet.

Mrs. John Nason, 86, Passed Away Sunday

Mrs. John (nee Juliette Gerard) Nason died in the Grenada Hospital on Sunday, May 3, 1942.

She was the daughter of the late A. Gerard and Mrs. Pauline Gerard, natives of France who came to Grenada about eighty years ago. Sixty-two years ago she and Mr. John Nason, a member of one of the oldest families of this section, were married. No children came to bless this union, but "Uncle John" and "Aunt Lett," as the deceased was most familiarly called, were always good to all children, especially, of course, to their nieces and nephews. We do not believe we err when we state that "Aunt Lett" was the oldest native born white citizen of Grenada. She was born here, she lived here all of her life and she died here. Her home always kept in good state of repair, was one of the oldest homes in Grenada, as it was a female academy in the very early days of Grenada.

She was a staunch member of All Saints Episcopal Church practically all of her life. Until very recent times she was to be seen in her pew almost every Sunday.

As far back as the writer can remember, "Aunt Lett" was a symbol of hospitality, kindness and sane living. Her home has been a haven for less fortunate friends. Countless "trays," baskets and sacks of food have gone from her home to those in need. She always lived very simply, and was not prone to let the public know of her many benefactions. Until the very last her mind was clear. Her head was filled as full of hard common sense as her heart was filled with kindness.

Burial services were conducted in All Saints Church Monday afternoon by the pastor, Rev. C. S. Liles, after which her body was carried to Odd Fellows Cemetery and buried.

Pallbearers were Messrs. Joe Neely, Ben Adams, Newt Rayburn, L. C. Walker, W. E. Jackson and A. J. Elmore. Survivors are her nieces and nephews, members of the Doak and Gerard families.

The writer, who as a little boy often visited in the Nason home, and his wife, who was a great friend of the deceased, join with others in expressing sympathy to the bereaved members of the family.

Panama Limited

(Mrs. W. W. W.)

On Sunday afternoon, May 3rd, beautiful stream-line train, "The Panama Limited" passed through Grenada on its maiden trip, from New Orleans to Chicago. There was a great crowd of Grenadians also citizens from Water Valley at the Grenada station to witness its approach. Two Mississippians were in charge of this magnificent train. They were Mr. Arch McLeod, engineer, of Memphis, who was reared at Water Valley, and Mr. H. Rowe, conductor, a member of the Rowe family at Winona.

The two first sections of the train housed the mighty Diesel engine and the passenger cars were named as follows:

"Lake Michigan," "Banana Road," "Pelican State," "City of New Orleans," "General Jackson," "Evangeline," "Chicago Land," "Land of Strawberries," "Blue Grass," Memphis." The red script signature "The Panama Limited" was written in neon tubes on the observation car.

The beautiful new Panama Limited is painted with sweeping yellow and orange stripes on a brown background and had everything modern railroad could offer. It required 12 months to complete and its normal length is 10 cars. The interior is furnished with walls of hand-pierced copper, illuminated from behind and the furnishings in the roomlets and drawing rooms are luxurious. In the observation and lounge cars, rattan and reed furniture, deep cushioned and movable, add beauty and comfort. The train is capable of traveling 120 miles an hour with a load of 20 cars, however because of track load capacity, the speed is 75 miles an hour, and the normal train is 10 cars long.

Inquiry at the ticket office revealed that one may leave Grenada at 7:05 p. m., reach Memphis at 9:30 p. m., and the fare is $4.68 to Memphis from Grenada.

Jno. B. White Recommended As Aviation Cadet

Listed among the eight men from his organization for cadet training is Private First Class John B. White, son of Mr. and the late Mrs. John E. White, of Grenada.

Private First Class White, a graduate of Grenada High School, enlisted in the Army Air Corps at Jackson, Mississippi on April 1, 1941. After his basic training he was sent to the Air Corps Technical School at Chanute Field, from which he was graduated as a qualified airplane mechanic.

Being an active member of the 38th Bombardment Squadron, somewhere on the west coast, Private First Class White was recommended by his Commanding Officer for appointment as an Aviation Cadet. The appointment, now effective, he is visiting his father, while on furlough awaiting call for primary training.

Machine Shop Begins Operation For Trainees

Grenada High School's vocational department opened its machine shop to trainees Tuesday with full attendance in two classes. Other classes are to be started within the next several days to care for additional enrollees. This shop is a part of the national defense training program, being operated by the United States Office of Education through the schools having Diversified Occupation departments. The shop is located at J. H. Bidby and Sons, Machine Shop. Training is offered in the operation of lathes, milling machines, drill presses, shapers, and bench work. Mr. George Purvis, an experienced machinist and instructor has been put in charge of the training.

Application for enrollment may be made at the Mississippi State Employment Service, Masonic Temple building, in Grenada. The requirements for admission are good physical condition, and not subject to immediate war duty.

Guy Fite Reelected Member County School Board

The trustees of the Grenada County Schools met on Friday, May 1st in the office of the County Superintendent of Education and re-elected Mr. Guy Fite as a member of the Grenada County School Board from Beat Two. Mrs. T. B. Scott, of Holcomb, acted as chairman of the meeting, Mr. W. E. Smith of Hardy, secretary, Mr. Albert Hayward and Mr. Guy Smart, tellers.

The Grenada County School Board is composed of the following:

Mr. L. L. Peoples, Beat One; Mr. Guy Fite, Beat Two, Rt. 4; Mr. W. M. Yeager, Beat Three, Rt. 2, Big Creek; Mr. I. G. Rounsaville, Beat Four, Star Rt. Grenada, Mr. Groce Carver, Beat Five, Holcomb.

DISTRICT 5—Rev. C. A. Pharr, Chairman; Mrs. A. W. George, Mrs. F. S. York, Mrs. O. R. Lilly, Mrs. John Martin, Mrs. E. M. Sherwood.

Cadet Max Batson, of Maxwell Field, Ala., and bride are here this week as guests of their brother, Mr. Juel Batson and wife.

Everyone voted just like I did—for the man of his choice.

Your Commander-in-Chief Says

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

Dear Mr. Sibley:

Not by machines alone will we win this war.

Unitedly, unstintingly, and without interruption or delay, we have solemnly promised to give our men a mounting tide of guns, tanks, planes and ships.

We shall keep that promise, and one promise more - that we shall preserve for them, wherever they may be, and without regard to race, creed or color, the moral and spiritual values of the democratic ideals and freedoms for which they now are fighting.

Because the USO is unitedly dedicated to that high purpose, and because that high purpose is a vital part of the job of winning this war, the USO should be supported by everybody - cheerfully, generously, and now.

Very sincerely yours,

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Mr. Harper Sibley,
President, 1942,
United Service Organizations,
Empire State Building,
New York, N. Y.

(Mississippi's USO War Fund Campaign begins May 11th. The state quota is $130,000 out of a national quota of $32,000,000 to provide spiritual, recreational, welfare and social needs for the men and women of our armed forces.)

Official Proclamation

The National USO (United Service Organizations) War Fund Campaign to raise $32,000,000 for recreational, spiritual welfare and social needs of our boys in the armed forces will begin Monday, May 11th.

The USO has accomplished a splendid job during the past year under constantly increasing demands as our men in service increased. The USO will be called upon to perform even a greater job in the year ahead.

The work of the USO is very vital to our war effort. It is the official agency designated to fill one of the most essential civilian jobs in connection with the war.

Mississippi's War Fund Campaign begins May 11 and ends May 23. Our state quota is $130,000.

I heartily endorse the USO and urge every citizen to have a part in financing this very essential wartime work. As our president said: "Give cheerfully, generously, now" when the local USO committee calls upon you.

Yours for Victory,

ROY DOAK, Mayor

The U. S. O.

(Editorial)

Our leaders have learned many things from the mistakes of the last war. One thing learned was that the concentration of soldiers welfare organizations into one organization—the United Service Organization was far better than the scattered efforts exerted by the Y. M. C. A., the Salvation Army, the Y. W. C. A., the K. of C., the Jewish Welfare organization, and perhaps others during World War No. 1.

In the first World War, each of these organizations did the best it could. The best that either could do was maintain a dinky little place where writing material was available, and perhaps a few worn checker boards and dirty rook cards, and some Paleozoic magazines.

Cities learned the lesson by maintaining and financing Community Chests, instead of having divers organizations conflicting and overlapping. The nation learned by establishing the U. S. O.

You help someone you know . . . when you give to the U. S. O.

Mother's Day

(Mrs. W. W. W.)

Mothers everywhere will be honored on Sunday and as honors are paid her and motherhood lauded there may be little smile on mother's lips and a possible tear as she receives them. These gifts, selected with such loving care, will be as much compared to the precious memories of yesterday. Could any gift be as sweet as the memories of small tousled heads on the pillow, or the remembrance of little sister's love for "Blue Bell" a much loved blond doll with pink cheeks and round blue eyes. Or the two small tricycles which were a path around the house, or the memory of Easter morning as the children raced from bonnet to iris, from hedge to size to find the brightly colored eggs left there by the Easter rabbit. And who could ever forget that no matter how quiet Santa Claus was, a kind voice would whisper to you, "Mister Santa Claus?" Mother doesn't need gifts on Mother's Day when she remembers the winter Sunday afternoons spent by the huge fire in her room where Robert Louis Stevenson's poems were read over and over, just because they were so sweet on the day when all things familiar became personal and the children took mother on their own little expeditions.

Mother's Day will be fairly over the tokens you bring her on Mother's Day, but your love gifts through the years are the most precious treasures.

To The New Mayor

This will be printed before a new mayor is elected, and therefore, all address ourselves to the "New Mayor" whoever he is.

You have a big job, Mr. Mayor, an important job and a big one. If done well, you will not receive proper remuneration. You are going to have to sacrifice some of your personal interests for the good of the community.

To have a successful administration, you will have to work with the Board of Aldermen for, in the last analysis, you are the presiding officer of this body. You can save yourself a lot of grief during sessions of the board by acting as presiding officer, and not injecting your opinions unnecessarily into the discussion.

Your main job will be to serve as liaison officer between the city of Grenada and the huge military establishment soon to be in our midst. You can perform your service by seeking to smooth out friction between the military authority and the military authority. Military authorities at best have little enough respect for civil authority, especially in war times, but you, Mr. New Mayor, can be a peace-maker and unify the efforts of the civil and the military authority to the end that this community will suffer the least possible from divided authority. And Mr. New Mayor, you have a big job in that field also.

Grenada's plan is the school system, the water system, the sewer system as well as the police and sanitary departments and be expanded greatly. You can be of immeasurable benefit to your community by seeing that Grenada obtains the best possible division of cost between the city government and the War Department. You must not fear in mind that the great increase in our population is temporary and that Grenada hopes to be a state community AFTER the war leaves. To that end Grenada cannot afford to use up its last dollar's worth of potential credit for ANY temporary expansion.

Mr. New Mayor, your constituents want to be hospitable and friendly to the "strangers within our gates," but certainly do not want the strangers to "take" the city. To prevent that, you must suppress insofar as possible gambling and liquor joints and keep such ladies of the evening as come among us as far in the background as possible. Do not overthink, Mr. New Mayor, that you and the police force will not be subjected to innumerable offers, maybe not better than the City can pay you to play shuteye.

Mr. New Mayor, you are not going to have time—if you attend to the real IMPORTANT duties—to try cases of cutting, fighting, and backbiting. You MUST have a Police Judge to handle such matters, and you SHOULD request the Board to pay this Judge a reasonable salary and permit the costs to revert to the treasury which, if our observation is correct, holds the smallest amount of money we ever saw it hold.

Then too, Mr. New Mayor, we have our internal or domestic ailments, especially the "cancer of West Ward" where conditions, especially on Saturday nights and Sundays, are indescribably bad. WE SHOULD WASH OUR OWN FACES BEFORE WE INSIST THAT THE STRANGERS KEEP A CLEAN FACE. The honest, hard-working negroes, many of whom own their own homes, must be protected from the more vicious of their race. These so-called "bad niggers" should be driven from Grenada as Mr. Crump drove them from Memphis. They, like the lily, neither see nor smell. They are positive liabilities to this or to any other community. "West Ward" too, is a major problem.

Mr. New Mayor, whoever you are, we pledge to you our sincere, if limited, support in ANY laudable undertaking, including those briefly outlined above.

Commerce Street Condition Improved

(Mrs. W. W. W.)

The condition on Commerce Street, where negroes congregate on Saturday and Sunday, is improving and we sincerely hope it will continue to improve. 'Tis true that in an altercation between two men Sunday night, one was injured rather seriously when hit over the head with a stick, but the general behavior is better. The law has visited each cafe in that neighborhood that is run by negroes and enlisted the proprietors add in "closing down" at midnight Saturday, on dancing. There is no dancing on Sunday now. The music boxes continue to play, but the patrons of these places forego the pleasure of dancing on Sunday. We take pleasure in passing this information on to the public, and commending our law officers.

UNDER THE MAGNOLIA TREE

By Herbert B. Allen

Very little definite information is available for an article on the Japanese Army. Our military intelligence has less information on the army of the Rising Sun than on any other. This is because the Japanese take extraordinary precautions to keep foreigners away from their zones of operation. The Japanese language is also a great obstacle to knowing and understanding much of Japanese strategy, or the Japanese military machine.

One of the principal reasons for the amazing success of the poorly armed and organized Chinese armies in resisting Japanese conquest, is the first hand knowledge of Japan possessed by China's leaders. Chiang Kai-shek lived in Japan for years. Ho Ying-chin, 53 year old Chinese War Minister, is a graduate of the Tokyo Military College, the West Point of Japan.

Before the outbreak of the war, I wrote in this column of the remarkable gallantry of the Japanese soldiers; but I differentiated between Japanese and white soldiers for certain reasons which I am now about to elaborate.

During the Napoleonic wars the white hot zeal of the French soldiers was famous. In fact, the word "chauvinism" which we use in the English language to describe wild patriotism, is constructed from the name of a French patriot named Chauvin.

The feverish military spirit of Nazi Germany is based upon a planned system of chauvinistic patriotism. The spirit of super-patriotism is kindled in childhood and fanned into flame during adolescence and young manhood. On that formulation the German army imposes a system of iron discipline that makes obedience much more healthy than disobedience.

Japan employs a very similar system. The young Japanese are placed in the good old patriotic groove soon after they emerge from their cradles, and as they grow older the pressure is increased.

But in addition to a chauvinism equal to that of the Napoleonic armies, and to Hitler's Nazi legions, the Japanese army is animated by an even more powerful influence: one that bears strikingly on the exceptional valor of Japanese soldiers in combat.

To the Japanese soldiers, Emperor Hirohito is Iso God. The Japanese recruit is immediately taught that every order he receives, even from a corporal, is equivalent to an order from the God-Emperor himself. This is powerful medicine and it works!

In peacetime the average Japanese recruit is inducted into the army when he is twenty years old; he is five feet, three and one-half inches "short," and weighs 117 pounds.

Half of those recruits have completed high school. Only 31 in 10,000 are totally illiterate. This is an astounding record when it is remembered how many obscure fishing villages are scattered along the rugged Japanese coasts, and the number of small mountain communities scattered throughout the long chain of islands. It compares favorably with Germany's fine record of literacy.

The Japanese people, again like the Germans, are unusually industrious and hard working. Their standard of living is very low, and the oppressive conditions in Japanese industry and agriculture produce soldiers so accustomed to hardship that the rigors of military life are less arduous than those endured in civil life.

The rugged physique of the Japanese soldiers enables their army to perform remarkable feats of endurance. Writing in the Quarterly Magazine of the British Army, an observer describes marches of thirty-five miles in a day. Only soldiers who have marched TEN miles through either heat or cold will appreciate what it means to cover thirty-five miles with full equipment. It is an almost superhuman feat.

Of equal interest to soldiers is the ration on which the Japanese army makes these forced marches. Very few field kitchens were seen with the Japanese armies during the bitter winters of the North China campaigns.

Such field kitchens as were with the troops were used not for cooking food, but for boiling water. With the hot water the Japanese soldiers doused their rations, which were half a pound of rice and a few blackened potatoes. When possible the ration included beef, which was eaten right from the can. But, when beef was not on hand, the armies fought during sub-zero weather on rice and potatoes. That is the life—if you can stand it.

Getting back to the influence of the "God-Emperor" combination, it is interesting to learn that the reason given for the ability of the Japanese, to complete marches of thirty-five miles, is ascribed to the fact that the Japanese flag, the personal symbol of the God-Emperor, is always carried at the head of Japan's columns.

Although the faces of the Japanese soldiers bear the marked evidence of great fatigue and pain, they march on because to fall out would be to "lose face." For a Japanese soldier to "lose face" would be equivalent to the disgrace a British soldier would incur for failure to "carry on." Such is the power of an idea. Truly, ideas are more powerful than dynamite.

While this idea of associating a God-Emperor with the Japanese flag is a dynamic force that pervades all Japanese life, military and civil, it is in battle that it is most effective.

During the campaigns of the Japanese army in China, observers have often seen Japanese soldiers in a state of "war hysteria"—half crazed with excitement, waving their flags, and seeking hand-to-hand combat with the Chinese with an absolute disregard for death. Against a well armed enemy, such conduct would be suicidal. But, nevertheless, it is a characteristic of the Japanese army.

This utter disregard for life, and for the ordinary precautions taken for the protection of troops, has been known to carry the Japanese soldiers to great extremes. Instances are on record where, in a frenzy of patriotic abandon, they have charged the Chinese positions, dragging their officers along with them to the attack, when the officers considered an assault too perilous.

Although these are marvelous demonstrations of patriotism, they have their corresponding disadvantages. As the Infantry Journal of the United States General Staff points out, "The Japanese is more of a warrior than a military man, and therein lies his weakness. The difference may be a subtle one, but it does exist: the essential quality of a warrior is bravery, that of a military man, discipline.

In the light of the historic defense of Bataan, by a greatly inferior number of American and Filipino soldiers, under the mastery strategy of General MacArthur, this distinction between the characteristics of American and Japanese soldiers is very significant.

However, the Japanese recently scored brilliant victories in Malaya. How these Malayan victories were scored in such a remarkably short time, will be described next week, UNDER THE MAGNOLIA TREE.

PRE-SCHOOL CHILDREN'S PLAY GROUND

The lovely setting for the play ground for pre-school children is rapidly becoming a most attractive place. The youngsters are all aquiver over the opening of the grounds for their very own use Tuesday of this week. This was really a very informal opening, but the formal opening will occur some time soon. Due notice will be given of this event. The handsome panel fence, painted snowy white, is a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Hable.

Mr. Hable not only donated this attractive fence, he also furnished the labor, sending men from his organization to build and paint it. The two large sand piles are located on the south central border of the lot, and the swing frame, also painted white, is located on a northern central position. Several white benches are in place beneath the mighty water oaks which furnish shade at practically all hours of the day. Other equipment will be added as more donations are received.

The idea that the executive committee would like to put over to the parents of pre-school children is this. Every mother is urged to take a personal interest in this play ground for Grenada children, and are urged to contribute a small amount to the finances. There will be very little up keep, once the equipment is installed.

The Women's Club of Grenada has contributed $25.00 and that money has already been invested in equipment. Twenty-two mothers of small children are now enrolled, and it is hoped that many more will enroll this month.

It is the committee's plan to have a formal opening soon. On that day lemonade and cookies will be sold. All mothers with pre-school children are most cordially invited and urged to come. Announcement next week.

WHEAT-FELTS

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Eunice Mae Felts of Elliott, Miss., to Mr. Clarence E. Wheat, of Poplarville, Miss., on Saturday evening, May 2nd, at 8:30 o'clock at the Baptist parsonage, the Rev. Glen E. Wiley officiating.

The young couple will reside in Grenada for the present as Mr. Wheat is employed by the Layne Central Co., water supply contractors for the army camp.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Proby visited their daughter, Miss Susan, at Blue Mountain College Sunday and Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Blackston, of Water Valley, spent Sunday afternoon with their daughter, Mrs. Joe B. Williams and family. Mrs. Williams and Martha Fay accompanied them home to spend Monday and Tuesday.

Rev. and Mrs. Glen E. Wiley and little daughter spent Monday in Memphis.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Fly, Mrs. Irvin Kennedy, Mr. Bill Wilcox, Mr. Jimmie Woods, and others from Water Valley were here Sunday to see the new stream line "Panama Limited."

Mrs. Ben Brown left Thursday last for Birmingham to visit her daughter, Mrs. Sam Houston and family.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Alexander and Rev. and Mrs. Liles went to Memphis last week to hear Cecil Brown lecture at the Auditorium.

Captain Max McCormick, of Fort Bell, Okla., and Mrs. McCormick, B. N. friends here this week and until Monday at New Orleans, visited relatives and day of next week. They are guests of Mr. McCormick's parents at Kirkman and of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Keeton in Grenada.

Mrs. Talford Jacks and baby spent the past week in Jackson with relatives.

Mrs. Nona Wood, of Leland, visited in the home of her nephew, Mr. Ralph Semmes and family last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Quantrell and baby daughter are now residing in the apartment located in the home of Miss Addie Barrow, having moved from the Marders residence. Mrs. Marders has returned to her home after occupying an apartment in the George Grant home.

Billy Semmes, student at Miss. State, spent the week-end at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raphael Semmes.

Mrs. S. Y. Anderson has returned to her home in Lambert after a visit in the home of her invalid mother, Mrs. M. E. Yeager.

GARDEN PILGRIMAGE

Following its annual custom the Garden Club sponsored the observance of Garden Day Pilgrimage in Grenada, visiting the more pretentious gardens on Wednesday of last week. The Iris Club joined with the Garden Club this year, and although the number of ladies to visit the gardens on Wednesday was not as great as in previous years, those who opened their gardens stated that friends were constantly dropping in to see the flowers.

The Iris, Roses, early Pinks, English Daisies, Azalias, Tulips, "Beauty" Bush, the many gorgeous Peonies, Lemon Lilies, Verbena, and so many of the early Spring flowers vied with the other for loveliness. As one walked thru these gardens and saw the well tended beds and rows of exquisitely colored flowers and witnessed the joy they gave to their owners and friends, one appreciated more the delightful and useful service rendered by members of these clubs.

The motto of a Memphis club, "Flowers contribute to morale and lead to Victory," is splendid, and it is a truly splendid and fine of the Garden and Iris Club members to share the beauty and tranquility of their gardens with their friends. The visit to the gardens this year will take the place of the annual Flower Show. We learned of the discontinuing of the Flower Show with deep regret, as it is one of the very best events on our calendar.

The Iris Club is certainly to be congratulated for their success in Iris culture. The beds of Iris at the Hospital, on College Boulevard, at the Barwin Hotel and at the Hosiery Mill, are indeed lovely.

SOLDIERS ON FURLOUGH

Lt. Upton Costlow and Sgt. Jack Vance, of Camp Bowie, Texas, are at home for ten days, having arrived Sunday, May 3.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The Civic League will meet in the home of Mrs. R. A. Clanton, Wednesday, May 13, at 4 p. m.—Reporter.

Mrs. Jack Taylor, of Holcomb, visited in Grenada Monday.

Mrs. H. B. Spain and Mrs. R. L. Scott are spending this week out of town. Mrs. Scott is in Jackson visiting her daughter, Mrs. Frank Gerard and family and Mrs. Spain will visit her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Grider and family in Meridian. Mr. Scott is attending to business affairs in New Britain, Conn.

Dr. and Mrs. Moore Moore and their son Mr. Carlton Moore, medical student at Southwestern, spent the day here Sunday with their sisters and aunts, Mesdames Wm. Mitchell, A. W. George and F. T. Gerard.

Mrs. Woodall, of Coffeeville, is a guest in the home of her niece, Miss Marybel Brown. She has been here since the sudden death of her sister, Mrs. J. T. Brown.

Mrs. Lamar Chamberlain, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Prichard Horton, and Mrs. Allie Gerard spent the week-end in Jackson, Miss. Mrs. Chamberlain and Mrs. Horton went especially to be present at the beautiful Rose Festival and May Day celebration over which their sister and daughter, Helen Horton, presided as "Queen of the May." Mrs. Gerard visited in the home of her children, Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Gerard, who have recently moved there from Birmingham.

Mrs. James Wagner, of Houston, Miss., spent the week-end here with her husband, who is employed by the government. He rooms at Mrs. F. T. Gerard's home.

Mrs. H. D. Lane, Jr., and Miss Elizabeth Townsend returned home Sunday from a visit to Brownwood, Texas, where Camp Bowie is located. They state that our boys in camp there are O. K.

Mrs. Gertrude Marders spent the past week-end at Belhaven College, Jackson, attending the impressive installation ceremonies at which time her talented daughter, Miss Gene Marders was installed as president of the Student Body of Belhaven College for the term of 1942-43. This is a signal honor and a beautiful compliment of which the many friends of Miss Marders here in Grenada are proud. May we add our congratulations and best wishes for the successful and pleasant administration of student activities under Miss Marders' capable supervision.

Brocks Note Humorous Side To Hard Luck

"It's not so bad but what it couldn't be worse" is the attitude of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brock of Lexington, Route 2, who brought in the following letter and believe that it might well apply to their plight, after having suffered two heavy losses by fire in recent months.

Letter of a Business Man in Answer To His Creditors

Dear Friend:

In reply to your request to send a check, I wish to inform you that the present condition of my bank account makes it almost impossible. My shattered financial condition is due to federal laws, state laws, county laws, city laws, corporation laws, liquor laws, mother-in-law's, sister-in-law's and out-laws.

Through these laws I am compelled to pay a business tax, amusement tax, head tax, fuel tax, gas light and water tax, and excise tax. I am required to get a business license, truck license, not to mention a marriage license, dog license, hunting license and fishing license.

I am also required to contribute to every society and organization which the gods of man is capable of bringing to life to woman's relief, the unemployment relief, and the odd diggers relief, also to every hospital and charitable institution in the city, including the Red Cross, the Purple Cross and the Double Cross.

For my own safety I am required to carry life insurance, property insurance, liability insurance, fire insurance, automobile and burial insurance. I am insured, expected, suspected, disrespected, examined, re-examined, informed, required, summoned, fined, commanded and controlled until I provide an inexhaustible supply of money for every known need, desire and hope of the human race.

Simply because I refuse to donate to something in the other, I am boycotted, talked about, held up, held down and held until I am almost ruined. I can tell you honestly that except for a miracle that happened this morning, I could not induce this check.

The wolf that comes to many doors nowadays just had pups in my kitchen. I sold them and here is the money.

—Lexington Advertiser.

Northern Convocation Dist. 3 Met Here April 30th

The Woman's Auxiliary District 3, of the Northern Convocation, held its annual meeting April 30th at All Saints Church in Grenada. The program began at ten o'clock with the singing of "The Church's One Foundation," followed by prayers read by the Rector, Rev. C. S. Liles. Miss Caroline Whitaker sang, "Seek Ye The Lord."

Mrs. W. W. Whitaker, president of All Saints Auxiliary, after extending a cordial welcome, turned the meeting over to Mrs. John Morson, president of the Northern Convocation.

Mrs. Morson addressed the group, the keynote being "Forward in Service."

At roll call brief reports were given by representatives of Starkville, Winona, Greenwood, Carrollton and Grenada. Four diocesan officers, the president of the Northern Convocation, and thirty-two others were present.

Mrs. Richard Kinkadee requested that all checks for gifts as well as for pledges be sent to the treasurer in order that a record of gifts may be kept. Gift checks being made to the project for which it is intended.

Mrs. A. W. George read a letter from Dr. Franklin, treasurer of the National Council, congratulating United Thank Offering givers on an increase of 189 percent in the whole church, and of several hundred dollars in Mississippi.

The president called attention to the next meeting of the Council of Churchwomen, urging all parishes and missions to budget delegates expenses.

Mrs. P. B. Sullivan, missionary from Shanghai, China, gave a very inspiring and informative address based on experiences of nineteen years' service.

Her husband is professor of Economics at St. John's University, Shanghai. Mrs. Sullivan is very convincing in her statement that the Chinese have proven why they deserve our interest. She urged us to support our missionaries by our interest and our prayers.

Mrs. Morson urged us to pray more diligently for our missionaries.

Mrs. Aldridge asked that we promptly fill our missionary boxes and report to her.

Mrs. D. S. Wheatley gave an address on "The Missionary Spirit in the Parish."

Mrs. P. T. LaGrone spoke on "Christian Social Relations."

Mrs. H. G. Carpenter made an address on "Prayer and Worship," then led the noonday prayers.

Rev. Duncan Gray announced that his schedule to Camp Clarke are good and that Mr. Jones is making every possible preparation for a successful Camp Bratton-Green, June 7-8th.

In closing remarks Mrs. Morson urged every parish to have a secretary of the department of promotion.

Appreciation expressed for hospitality of All Saints Parish.

Mrs. Morson spoke briefly, ending with the challenge, "Carry the flag, but Carry the Cross."

Benediction.

Adjournment to Community House for lunch served by All Saints Auxiliary.

Church women from out of town to attend this meeting were: Mrs. John Morson and Mrs. P. T. LaGrone, from Greenville; Mrs. H. G. Carpenter, from Rollins Fork; Mrs. Phillip B. Sullivan, St. John's University, Shanghai, China; Mrs. R. Kinkadee, Tutwiler; Mrs. W. R. Pillow, Sr., Mrs. S. W. Wheatley, Mrs. E. P. Bates, Mrs. John Thomas, Mrs. J. H. Peebles, Rev. and Mrs. Duncan Gray, Mrs. E. R. Chaney and Mrs. J. T. Edwards, from Greenwood; Mrs. Joe Gee, Mrs. Rebecca Hawkins and Mrs. Augusta Crump, from Carrollton; Mrs. Abbott Ferrie, Mrs. George Phelps and Mrs. Herbert Dennon, from Starkville; Mrs. E. P. Cameron, Miss Baskerville, Miss Jennie Purnell, Mrs. F. J. Whitehead, from Winona.

Acting Secretary, Miss Mary Strahan, Grenada; Acting Registrar, Mrs. F. T. Gerard, Grenada.

Our board of supervisors is to be commended on going slow on the $7,500.00 Health Unit. It is ABSOLUTELY necessary that Grenada County finance the whole of it, we predict that Grenada County will do it but it should receive substantial help from the City of Grenada.

Scouting Must Go On In Grenada

It cannot go on, however, in Grenada unless it receives a greater moral support than it is now receiving.

The citizens of our community responded most generously in our recent financial drive. All that we asked for was contributed in a day and something over for local Scout purposes. This was fine and much appreciated. The public generally is conscious of the fact that money invested in maintaining and expanding Boy Scouting is an investment relative to the future security of the nation.

The moral task, however, is one far greater than merely seeing to it that the present is secure. Quoting from the Commercial Appeal:

"We have, as a people and community, no greater responsibility than that of training youth in the American way and along lines of elemental American idealism. That is the very essence of the Boy Scout movement."

Continuing the quotation from the editor of the Commercial Appeal: "There is no activity more important than that which gives assurance that the America which is preserved by a total war effort will be guided in the future by Americans whose feet, when young, have been solidly planted on the way which is ours by precept and heritage. It is in the inculcation of American idealism and in developing native ingenuity and initiative that Boy Scouting serves so splendidly."

"It is the only movement for American youth. It has been tested over the years, and its worth proved by the type of citizenship leaders its ranks have produced."

Shall we continue Scouting in Grenada? We cannot do it without adult leadership. We must find a Scout Master. Two young men who have done this work efficiently and wholeheartedly are unable to serve longer. One of these young men is in the army. The other engaged in Government that keeps him away from Grenada most of the time. A third recent helper is moving away.

Scouts have a set night each week for their meetings. Three meeting nights in succession they have assembled but without a leader or Scout Master. No organization can continue without leadership.

We have more Boy Scout material in the way of boys than ever before in Grenada. Just at present and in the immediate future, there is a need for this organization that never has existed here. With the coming of an Army camp and a multitude of people—strangers, many of them to be here temporarily—we need the guardianship for the boys that Boy Scouting offers and the guardianship of our girls, may I say here, that the Girl Reserve organization offers. I am appealing to the people of Grenada to become concerned for these splendid organizations and to support them as never before. The first line of National Defense for America and the world a short time hence is here now with the Youth toward which so many have been without concern.

I am appealing to the adult citizenship of Grenada to help us find a Scout Master for our local troop and an assistant Scout Master and I am making the appeal for the sake of the boys, would-be men before we know it.

Sincerely yours,

John Rundle, Supt.

Grenada City Schools.

County USO Committees Named For Five Beats

Under the direction of Mr. J. L. Cooley, chairman of the armers' Committee to raise USO's quota in Grenada county, outside the city—which quota is $300.00—the following persons will serve.

BEAT I—E. B. Lewis, Chas. Perry, Ben McElwath, Jno. Nichols, R. F. Carpenter, Mrs. P. L. Bennett, C. E. Rhett, Powell Goza, W. V. Dubard, Lewis Dubard, Jr., Lewis Moore, L. P. Horton.

We hope that the new Mayor will use the power of his office to clean up West Ward, which is a cancerous sore on the City Beautiful. While the church bells are calling white and colored to worship on Sunday night, devilry, licentiousness and sin are almost at their height there.

FDR layed the cards on the table Tuesday night. If anyone can remain complacent after that speech, that person could remain complacent while two wild cats and a couple of rattlesnakes were attacking him.

Mother's Day

A child instinctively turns to his mother for comfort and protection, for sympathy and encouragement and understanding. But it is only when he grows older and experiences the harsh realities of life that he becomes fully aware of the tenderness that dwells in her heart, shines in her eyes and lends to the touch of her hand a gentleness indescribable.

Even then he sometimes forgets. Cares and responsibilities fill the crowded hours of his life, and all too often his thoughtlessness brings sorrow to one who in giving so much asks so little in return.

And that is sufficient justification, if such be needed, for the observance of Mother's Day. Some captious persons say it is "overcommercialized"; and if human nature were less frail, this might be true. But most people are preoccupied with their own affairs and need to be reminded of what they owe to their mother, who will one day be lost to them forever.

In offering this timely reminder and suggestion to our customers, and potential customers, we feel that we will have rendered a real service, if we make it possible to bring pride and joy to a mother who might otherwise have been forgotten.

Major John Wade, Area Engineer, made a talk at the Baptist Sunday School Sunday. This shows how versatile he is.

The last time we had Daniel P. Lott on our mailing list he was a plain line sergeant. Now, when he starts with us again, he is a Master Sergeant. Hi, sarge.

Work looking to the doubling of the capacity of the local telephone exchange is now in progress. This huge increase is due to the activities incident to the building of the army camp.

Colin Campbell and his nephew, H. Campbell, of Nixon, Texas, are visiting in the home of their brother and father, Charlie Campbell, near Duck Hill. Colin is an old war buddy and, while here, spent an hour or so with us, also $2.50 for a new subscription, as he was cut off recently.

We were mighty happy to go out to the car and speak to our venerable friend, Mr. William Brunson the other day. He is one of the patriarchs of Castilla, and a fine old gentleman.

We are happy to report that it looks like Homer Williams' eyesight seems to be improving. If he passed you, as he did us, without speaking, remember the poor devil can hardly recognize his own grandchild or wife at five feet distance.

The article about the Japs, written by Mr. Allen, is published to show what the soldiers and the general public are up against. Forewarned is forewarned.

According to Mr. L. J. Doak, chairman of the war bonds and stamps, Grenada county's May quota is $24,000. It is urged that every one invest at least ten percent of his or her income in these securities.

George Terrell helped out the USO drive by distributing the handsome window cards.

Vernon Maxey, vice-mayor of Oxberry, was a visitor to Grenada Monday.

Joe Ward, since he moved up close to town, has come out of the k.k.k.

We are in receipt of information that Thomas Duncan Beatty, son of Mrs. C. A. Beatty, of Tupelo, has been promoted to the rank of Petty Officer 1st Class, and is stationed on the west coast.

By the continued indulgence of our creditors and by sheer good luck, we have been able to get by another first of the month.

Sugar rationing this week; gasoline rationing in the near future; sock rationing soon. And, in our opinion, it will not belong before a person wishing to buy a bus ticket or a railroad ticket will be asked "whatthehell are you going there for?" but in more polite terms. Transportation is a vital element in defense, and it too will soon be rationed.

"No bananas today" is going to be truth instead of song soon. The freighters which have been used to bring bananas from Central America have been taken over by the government for more important use than hauling bananas.

Roy Doak has decided to postpone his trace chain and plow line ad until after the war.

Squire, or rather ex-squire Carver from Beat Five was moseying up Green Street Tuesday. Will Carver came in to see us recently.

Saying, "Oh, he (she) is just a damn nigger," will not solve anything.

A little bird whispered to me that a good many whiskey makers were in and around Oxberry.

Most of the ladies of the evening that I have seen look sorter of frozy and moth-eaten.

Mighty sorry to hear that Joe Hendricks, of Tie Plant, is quite seriously ill.

Brother J. E. Clack made his monthly appearance in Grenada Tuesday.

Added to the list of papers that over worked Joiner will have to worry with is the one that will go to Mrs. John Tharpe. Welcome, Mrs. Tharpe.

I may be getting blind, but I do not believe that my eyes deceive my mind when I say there are a good many twilight sisters in town.

Our valliant supervisors finished up their business in one day—Monday—this week.

NUMBER FORTY ONE

TO A WARTIME MOTHER

By HERBERT B. ALLEN

No experience in life is anticipated with fonder expectation than that of motherhood. No obligation is discharged with more loyal devotion, or is sustained through greater discouragement or adversity. Motherhood presents to the world its most inspiring pattern for the honorable conduct of life.

Styles come and go with the ages. Mothers blossom forth in billowing crinolines, or in exquisite streamlined smartness. But fashion is merely the outward symbol of the times, the index of social position, or the insignia of economic rank in society.

Mothers outward refinement changes with the whims of the world of feminine fashion, or with the vicissitudes of fortune. But the spiritual values, and the maternal instincts in the hearts that beat underneath the sheers of orquandy, or the coarsest of calico, remain changeless. There is the appearance of change, but there is no change.

In modern times, as in the days of old, mother's boundless love, her indomitable spirit, and her infinite compassion remain the rock and the anchor of her children, and her grandchildren.

Mother's tastes, her interests, and her occupations, change with the changing times. But her queenly nobility remains as constant as truth, and as certain as the laws of nature. Her influence for good continues more potent than that of all of the philosophers combined.

Motherhood is a mystic blending of pain and pleasure, of defeat and victory. And while that is unquestionably true of normal experience, it is even more poignantly true in times of conflict.

There is something innate in man that enables him to face the risks and dangers of warfare with relative calmness. It is an inheritance from the eternal struggle for existence from the stern conflict against man and the elements for survival.

But the cruel apprehension for the safety and welfare of loved ones, that mothers suffer, is painfully fresh with every generation of women as it was at the dawn of history.

War is the greatest trial, and the greatest triumph, of motherhood; for it is mothers who are called upon to make the greatest sacrifice before the altar of patriotism.

There is nothing new under the sun. The weapons of warfare change with the progress of invention. But the human emotion of the mothers' sons who man those weapons, and the nerve-racking strain endured by their mothers, remain identical; whether the struggle be called the War of Independence of the second World War.

Surface appearances change; but underlying principles and fundamentals do not change. The price of liberty is not only eternal vigilance; it is also bloodshed and suffering, pain and sacrifice.

During the American Revolutionary War, a Southern mother and her young son gave this country one of the most impressive demonstrations of high patriotism recorded in the long annals of our national history. In the hope that their glorious example of patriotic self-sacrifice may be a comfort and an inspiration to some modern mother who may read these lines, this brief account, in tribute to their distinguished service, is written on this historic Mother's Day.

At the age of fourteen, a boy of the rough frontier left his South Carolina home in 1781 to enlist in the United States Army. He was subsequently captured and thrown into a military prison, where he contracted smallpox. His mother then arranged for his release, through an exchange if prisoners of war, and nursed him back to health.

Although typical of other boys of the backward frontier settlements, this young private was born with a high destiny. In due time, he was to become an illustrious Major General in the Regular Army, and one of the few great presidents of the United States; the first president to be elected from the western frontier wilderness.

To this day, that boy's birthday anniversary is celebrated throughout the United States, with elaborate banquets, for his striking personality and his radical political philosophy left an indelible impress upon American life. He was Andrew Jackson, later affectionately known to his countrymen as "Old Hickory." His mother was Elizabeth Hutchinson Jackson.

Andrew Jackson was one of the most distinguished men born in the Southern States; and one of the most famous figures of the nineteenth century. Of the many brilliant exploits of his extraordinary career, it is doubtful if he ever reached a higher pinnacle of fame than on the occasion of the immortal victory over the British at the Battle of New Orleans.

At that moment of supreme triumph, March 15th, 1815, General Jackson was speaking of his mother to three officers of his military staff: "Gentlemen, I wish she could have lived to see this day. There never was a woman like her. She was as gentle as a dove and as brave as a lioness. Her last words have been the law of my life."

Elizabeth Hutchinson Jackson's last words to her fourteen year old soldier son, were written as she lay dying of yellow fever in Charleston, South Carolina where she had gone to nurse neighbors who were confined aboard a British hospital ship.

For clarity of expression for nobility of thought, for the elucidation of high principles, for practical philosophy, and for the moral courage of the magnificent spirit revealed in its lines, this letter of Mrs. Jackson deserves to rank high in American literature.

However, no copy of it could be located in the great Congressional Library in Washington. Grateful acknowledgment is hereby made to the Ladies Association of Hermitage, Tennessee, for the text of the letter which now hangs framed on the walls of The Hermitage, Andrew Jackson's famous old home and popular national shrine. The letter follows:

"Andrew, if I should not see you again, I wish you to remember and treasure up some things I have already said to you; in this world you will have to make your own way. To do that you must have friends. You can make friends by being honest, and you can keep them by being steadfast. You must keep in mind that friends worth having will in the long run expect as much from you as they give to you. To forget an obligation or to be ungrateful for a kindness is a base crime—not merely a fault or a sin, but an actual crime. Men guilty of it sooner or later must suffer the penalty. In personal conduct be always polite but never obsequious. None will respect you more than you respect yourself. Avoid quarrels as long as you can without yielding to imposition. But sustain your manhood always. Never bring a suit in law for assault and battery or for defamation. The law affords no remedy for such outrages that can satisfy the feelings of a true man. Never brook wanton outrage upon your own feelings. If you ever have to vindicate your feelings or defend your honor, do it calmly. If angry at first, wait until your wrath cools before you proceed."

On this Mother's Day, the world's skies are black and ominous. Man's works crash about him with alarming reverberation. Civilization moves dangerously close to the verge of ruin.

Such are the dire consequences when men deliberately ignore the high code of personal honor, and the just consideration for the rights and privileges of others that were urged on young Andrew Jackson by his mother's wise solicitude.

Only when men return universally to the kindly and humane principles taught by mothers, down thru the ages will peace supplant demoralization in this war torn world. The spirit of the hand that rocks the cradle must once again be permitted to govern this troubled old world.

THIS IS THE STORY OF CARBOLOY

How a Most Strategic Material of the War—Invented in Germany—Was Made Available to the United Nations

More Precious Than Diamonds in War Production... Carboloy is an American trademark for cemented tungsten-carbide, an alloy second only to diamonds in hardness, more precious than diamonds as a vital material in America's war program. It is used for the tips of cutting tools, and for wear-resistant dies. Carboloy is used in small quantities; it is difficult to make and difficult to use—but it has never been scarce in modern times. There is no scarcity now.

Invented in Germany—Krupp Protected by U. S. Patents... Cemented carbide was invented in Germany—it belonged to Krupp of Germany, and this made all the rest of the world Krupp's customer. In this country, Krupp was protected by patent grants from the United States.

General Electric Creates Independent Production... The General Electric Company two years before this had begun research on tungsten-carbide and foresaw its importance in industrial production. For immediate use in its own plants and for easier availability to others, General Electric undertook the long and arduous negotiations for the American rights. Limited rights were obtained in 1928, with Krupp continuing to export the material to its United States customers—a business which languished, however, as General Electric painstakingly developed its own Carboloy technique. This paved the way for General Electric to make the United States entirely independent of Germany for its cemented tungsten-carbide supply as early as 1936.

American Tool Costs Half That of German... From the start, two totally different businesses were involved. Krupp originally exported cemented carbides in chunks—and was unsuccessful. General Electric—and its subsidiary, Carboloy Co., Inc.—found it necessary to develop a complete engineering and manufacturing service, making various types of Carboloy equipped tools, training men in their use, and offering to its customers a specialized and successful production technique. For purposes of fair comparison, a typical German cemented carbide tool in 1928 cost $22.26 in the United States, while a comparable American Carboloy tool cost $11.11.

Loss to General Electric for Many Years—Art Taught to Industry... In times of peace—and 1928 was such a time—the measure of success of industrial adventure is to be found in profit to the adventurer. By such a measure, Carboloy could not be called successful. Initial expenses were great. For a time the Company lost at the rate of $1,000 a day, and once had an operating deficit of more than a million dollars. *One of the major contributing reasons was the continuing high cost of development, standardization, and training. In 1936-37 alone, training courses were given to 10,000 men in industry. Moreover, six major price reductions were made in the face of operating losses, until the standard tool blank had been reduced in price 90 per cent.

Faith and Perseverance... Depression was still another reason—labor-saving tools could not be sold to industry or labor at any price. But General Electric, with determination that now seems providential, kept on—increasing its capacity, granting new licenses, condoning instances of unlicensed production, staying ahead of its market.

Production Multiplied Forty-five Times in Four Years... Cemented tungsten-carbide could easily have been a source of weakness here, as it was in England, had it not been for General Electric's policy of continued expansion. In 1939, the production of the Carboloy Company was less than 10,000 lbs. In 1940, it was 40,000 lbs.; in 1941, it was 190,000— and in December came Pearl Harbor. Now, in 1942, the Company's production is going at a rate that is 45 times that of only four years ago.

Britain Dependent upon Us... By contrast, British companies, which had been content to continue as customers of Krupp, found themselves cut off from the vital material when Poland was invaded. But the General Electric Company was able to supply substantial quantities to British industry immediately and since then has continuously filled British orders. It has, in like manner, filled Canada's requirements since 1936. It is currently supplying Canada, Russia, and other United Nations. All this in addition to supplying the greatly expanded needs of American industry.

An Inspirational Story of American Industry... Thus, the story of Carboloy does not end in "too little and too late." Like many previously untold stories of American industry, it continues, a sturdy and inspiring example of public service born of private enterprise, and characterized by hard work, ingenuity, investment, research, risk, and courage—a familiar pattern on this side of the Atlantic. USO REPORTS ON PAST YEAR'S ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Did An Outstanding Emergency Service

How the USO has spent and is spending the $14,365,161.31 contributed to its 1941 campaign by the American people is told in reports now in the mails to more than 5,000 United Service Organizations, Inc. local committees throughout the country.

In a "Report to Our Friends," signed by six of its national leaders, USO tells what it has done to carry out its original program. The statement points out that USO's program "was designed to serve the spiritual, recreational, welfare and social needs of the men and women in the armed forces and the camp areas, and in overburdened communities, of workers in vital war industries, particularly women and girls."

In doing this job, the report says, USO has added to its club activities six important services requested by the War and Navy Departments which were in need.

Mississippi's USO War Fund Campaign begins May 11th. Every citizen will be given an opportunity to help USO carry on its vital and splendid work among the boys in uniform. Contact your local USO committee, offer your services and your money to this essential wartime effort.

ther the original program nor the budget.

In reporting on USO's performance, it is pointed out that USO now has 407 clubhouses and 163 other smaller units in operation in contrast to the 329 service clubs called for in its original program.

These 570 units were located in 257 communities in 43 states within our continental limits," the report says. "In sub-arctic Alaska and in the great sub-tropic areas from Hawaii through the Panama Canal and the Caribbean bases to Bermuda, USO is operating 10 club houses and foresees substantial future need."

It is noted that the need for USO service was so urgent that its leaders were unwilling to wait for the government to erect buildings or for the public to provide funds to meet the emergency. Before a dollar was raised USO was in operation and expanding in rented, borrowed and donated quarters. The USO now, however, has 137 clubs operating in government-built quarters and 70 more are being constructed by the government.

WOMEN HAVE VITAL USO JOB

The United Service Organizations (USO) today announce appointment of Mrs. Maurice T. Moore, who served as Chairman of the New York Women's Division of United China Relief, as National Vice-Chairman for USO's second national campaign, beginning May 11, and Chairman of the National Women's Committee.

Mississippi's USO War Fund Campaign, beginning May 11, to reach a $130,000 quota finds four Mississippi women on the State USO Executive Committee. They will enlist thousands of additional women in Mississippi's USO Campaign. They are: Mrs. Tom Bailey, Meridian; Mrs. J. K. Arent, Grenada; Mrs. A. B. Butts, Oxford; and Miss Mary Francis Lacey, Jackson. In addition, two of the state's campaign districts are proud to have women chairmen.

The appointment was made by Prescott S. Bush, national campaign chairman, at the USO national headquarters in the Empire State Building.

"USO is fortunate in securing the trained leadership of Mrs. Moore," Mr. Bush said today. "She will help organize American women in some 6,000 communities. These groups will raise the funds needed to continue the recreational and morale-supporting service being given America's fighting men and the forces behind the lines in 257 cities and towns in the United States, its territorial possessions and island bases."

If YOU give to the USO you are helping YOUR boy or your neighbor's boy somewhere.

PIANO RECITAL BY MISS LOUISE AVENT

Miss Ellen Louise Avent, lovely and talented daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. K. Avent was presented in piano recital by her teacher, Mrs. Alfred Bryant, of Coffeeville on Wednesday, May 6, at four thirty in the afternoon.

As the guests arrived they were greeted at the door by Mrs. Bryant who was handsomely attired in a chiffon formal, featuring a lovely corsage of white lilies and carnations. Her costume jewelry was of pearls. Her gown was charming in a formal of combined lace and tulle over tulle. Her gown being an exquisite shade of blue. A shoulder corsage of pink carnations and matching pink lace for chief completed her becoming costume.

The home furnished a most attractive setting for this truly delightful event. The rooms being decorated with large bouquets of pink carnations, lilies and pink radiance roses. At the staircase a lovely arrangement of lilies was placed and the entrance to the living room was flanked by two lovely bouquets of carnations. The beauty of the yellow and lavender lilies arrangement in the living room was reflected in a lovely round mirror. Flanking the piano were two graceful wicker baskets of green and gold with green ruffled ribbons, and these were filled with long stemmed white roses and English dogwood. Pink radiance roses and blue lilies were at points of vantage near the piano.

Louise was indeed a radiant picture of American girlhood in her exquisitely fashioned light blue dress of chiffon. The fitted bodice featured a miniature ruffle which formed a yoke effect and the full skirt was lovely with panel and ruffle effect. Her corsage was of white carnations and the finest of pink rose buds. She played with such skill and with such beauty of expression that everyone present was most impressed with her ability.

The following program was presented:

Fantasia	Mozart
Prélude Op. 28 No. 29	Chopin
Valse Op. 64 No. 2	Chopin

At this time Mrs. Bryant delighted the guests with three selections on the piano accordion, playing sonata in C major, modernized, Hayden.

Girlandini	Pestalozzi
Melley	Foster
Mrs. Bryant	Mrs. Bryant

Miss Avent then continued with:

La Coquette (left hand only)	Krogmann
A La Boin Albee	Schutt
Marche Grotesque	Singing

Louise Avent-Kelth Bryant.

At the close of this very lovely and wonderful entertaining afternoon, a bevy of young girls in party frocks served a beautiful plate containing chicken salad in lettuce cups, dainty sandwiches, wafers and a tall cornucopia of sherbet. Those to assist were Misses Mary Elizabeth Horton, Carolyn Whitaker, Dorothy Talbert and Mary Lou Cullen.

On Monday, May 4th, sweet little Arlein Pierce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Knox Pierce, celebrated her fifth birthday by inviting approximately forty guests to a party staged at the Community House at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

For this occasion Arlein wore a lovely blue rayon frock which featured a lace yoke and cuffs. She wore pink beads and bracelet and her quintely fashioned light blue dress of chiffon. The fitted bodice featured a miniature ruffle which formed a yoke effect and the full skirt was lovely with panel and ruffle effect. Her corsage was of white carnations and the finest of pink rose buds. She played with such skill and with such beauty of expression that everyone present was most impressed with her ability.

LOYALTY TO OUR COUNTRY

We students of Grenada High School have reached the age when we are capable of understanding the words "loyalty to our country." We show this loyalty to our actions and deeds as well as to our words. To be a good citizen and to show loyalty to our country we must be true and respect the flag of America. The best way of all to be loyal to our country is first to be loyal to ourselves.

Our country is not a possession; it is a love for our native land. This love will lead to noble deeds and a noble life. The love of our country is the foundation upon which all other qualities for a good citizen are based.

In order to show to others our loyalty we should try in every possible way to make our country, America, a better and better place in which to live.

—Ruth Lee Morrow

JOKE

It's nice to see Betty and Dick Rule home. Seems like a long time again.

Joel Terry has been receiving letters from Jack Morrison lately. He's A-1 in the army and A-1 in his heart.

Pauline Elliott has been getting quite a rush out of her latest Jack Harrison.

Wonder if Walter Sid and Jean Gunter will ever make up?

A certain Yvette whose last name is Dodge was seen making eyes at Warner Moss and Jimmy Boone.

Shocking of Warner, he certainly gets around. He was seen at church Sunday night with Betty Greenhill.

We thought that Ruth Lee liked Moody and Rookin Moore favored brunettes, but it seems that they're getting together on the subject at the band party Friday night.

Somebody said "Sond" Dean didn't go for girls much. Just ask Mary "Liz" Cowan about that.

Romance on the Rocks: Rose Hodges and Jack Harrison.

Lynn says that he just loves "Jello." I wonder why?

Can it be love between Barbara Nell Roberts and Albert?

Seen at the slow dance night—Dick Rule and Lou Avent.

Kathleen Watson may be shy, but just ask her where she was Wednesday afternoon. Could she have been dancing?

Anne Francis Taylor and Billy Harper have been disagreeing on a lot of things lately but I think they are about to get their troubles straight.

We heard that Roy and Margaret Anne had quite a time in Jackson.

Berta and Will were seen on the roof in Jackson Saturday with Ernest and D. M. Taylor.

Seen at Lorraine Burt's party were Jack Bickerstaff and Helen McCoy.

Max Moore's girl at Gore Springs, when he has been riding fifteen miles to see, got married recently. Take it easy, Max.

Miss Wilson got a big surprise at church Sunday night.

Everyone is glad to see Olivia Pullman back in school.

Who was in that got Boomer's glasses after contest down at Jackson? Ask Jean Geslin.

Billy Thiesman says that he is going to "settle down and get a girl." As a good beginning he's doing to take some lucky damsel to the band party. He also has a picture of a cute girl in his bill fold.

R. C. Purdy must have a very busy brother. You will notice that he is always "helping" his brother during school hours. But you will also notice that his brother works at night.

M. Green certainly does like the song "One Dozen Roses."

Don't forget—it's War Bonds and Stamps instead of Defense Bonds and Stamps.

HISTORY OF THE GRANADA BAND

The Grenada Band was organized in early December, 1933, under the direction of Mr. Roy M. Martin, present director of the Greenwood High School Band. Mr. Martin was a splendid director and was succeeded in the fall of 1934 by Mr. Roger Dollarhide. Ever since then, Mr. Dollarhide has directed the band most successfully.

All through these past years, the Grenada band has won many honors all over the state. It has been to many distant festivals and conventions, at which it won excellent ratings. The band has always participated in every activity whenever it has been called on.

For the past nine years the band has taken part in the annual State Band Contest in Jackson. It has made the following record:

- 1934 State Contest—Superior rating in Class C.
- 1935 State Contest—Superior rating in Class B.
- 1936 Dixie Contest—Superior rating in Class C.
- 1936 State Contest—Superior rating in Class B.
- 1937 State Contest—Superior rating in Class B.
- 1937 National Contest—Excellent rating in Class B.
- 1938 State Contest—Superior rating in Class B.
- 1939 State Contest—Superior rating in Class B.
- 1940 State Contest—Excellent rating in Class B.
- 1941 State Contest—Excellent rating in Class B.
- 1942 State Contest—Superior rating in Class B.

This year's rating was a great improvement over the past two years. The band received superior in marching and sight-reading, and excellent in concert this year. All the members did a fine job.

In the present first band there are forty-nine members including the twirlers, and in the second band there are fifteen. The band is doing fine work. The solos and ensembles also did a fine job in their band work.

Billy Thiesman.

FIELD MEET

Seventeen years ago, in 1924, Mr. Rundle and the superintendent from Kosciusko were talking and suddenly decided to have a district field meet of the North Central District. This meet was to be a series of examinations in the subjects taught at all the schools. The results from this were to be added to the athletic and platform events. The winning school was to receive a cup.

For the first few years only a few schools participated but soon all the schools in the district started taking part. Now there are forty-three schools in our district. Since some schools are so small that they cannot compete with the larger schools, they have been put in two classes A and B. Trophies are given to both classes in literary, athletic and platform contests.

In all these years Grenada has failed to win highest honor only once.

—Ruth Lee Morrow

GIRL RESERVES

The Girl Reserves enjoyed a very delightful campfire Thursday afternoon. They met at the school building at 5:30 and from there went to Pine Hill. While the cabinet members were preparing the lunch, the rest of the girls went to see the new water tank. After that they were called to a very enjoyable meal. When the meal was finished, they all enjoyed the singing of many of the Girl Reserve songs. All the Girl Reserves are looking forward to more fun like this.

HISTORY AND ACHIEVEMENTS OF THE SOPHOMORE CLASS

In the year 1932, the sophomore class of 1941-42 entered the first grade, which was taught by Miss Mary Pierce and Miss Ruby Hard. Although some moved and others failed, a total of 74 were promoted to the second grade, taught by Miss Lovelle Tyson and Mrs. Johnnie Wylie. In this year the number of pupils was increased and 90 were promoted to the grammar school. This was the joy of their school days, to reach the grammar school.

As the years of grammar school began to go by, the pupils began to show their talent and ability by their work in the band and in expression. A few of the boys joined the sub scouts, participated in plays and most of them entered into the Child Health Day program each year. Many of the pupils were honor students and were on the honor roll or honorable mention list every six weeks.

Soon the time came for them to go into Junior High. Here they were to get ready to go into high school. Ninety five were promoted to the eighth grade and also ninety-five to high school. But some moved and the number of students decreased.

Being in high school now, many girls joined the Girl Reserves and Glee Club. Many boys joined the Glee Club and Scouts. This class already had a large number in the band, but more joined. This being their freshman year, they felt that they were not so important as the rest of the high school, but it was different when they entered the tenth grade.

Today there are 71 pupils and they are hopeful that the class will be even bigger and better next year.

—Lillian Calloway.

FORMER STUDENTS

The number of Grenada Hi's former students who are now employed in the armed forces of Uncle Sam is large. All of these boys are in good standing in whatever branch of the service they are in. Grenada Hi is proud of her boys and wishes them the best of luck wherever they are.

Some of the more recent students who attended Grenada Hi and who are now in the armed forces of their country are as follows:

Marines—Jack Hudson, Frank Matthews.
Army—Billy Foster, Allen Anderson, Jack Calk, Roger Bell, Charlie Bell, W. B. Abel, S. B. Spence, Chester Irby Heck Lane, Whyte Whitaker, Jr., W. A. Woodall, Mickey Angevine, Paul Lockett.

These boys who are devoting their lives to their country are doing their very best in this critical period of United States history. The least we can do is write them. Just a few lines will let them know that the folks back home are pulling for them. The parents of these boys or some of the teachers at Grenada Hi will be glad to give their addresses to whomsoever is interested in writing to them.

As one of the boys recently told our student body, "Keep 'em writing."

—Larry Noble.

TRACK AND TENNIS TEAM TO OXFORD

The track and tennis team went to the state field meet at Oxford last Saturday to show what they could do. James Thomas and Rowe Rhett were defeated in the tennis semi-finals Saturday morning. A few Grenada track fans were present to see Grenada capture nine points in the meet. Rowe Rhett ran a close race to cross the finish line second in the 440 yard dash. "Bebe" Cullen captured fifth place in the girls fifty and seventy-five yard dash. Louis Barranco took fifth place in the 220 yard dash and the boys relay team consisting of our four runners, Louis Barranco, Jay Gore, Edgar Turnipseed, and Rowe Rhett, placed fourth in the mile relay. We all want the track boys and girls to know that we are really proud of them.

The Grenada Bulldogs defeated Como baseball club on the home field Wednesday evening with a score of 6 to 1. The game had to be postponed Tuesday evening because of rain.

CHAPEL PROGRAM

Everyone enjoyed the talk that Bro. Wiley gave Wednesday morning. His scripture was "A Good Name is Rather to be Chosen than Great Riches," Proverbs 22:1. Brother Wiley gave the difference between "character" and "reputation," and gave examples of each.

There were two former students of Grenada High School present, Betty and Dick Rule. We are all glad to see them back for a short visit. Dick has been with the F. B. I. and will be in the Air Corps soon. Betty has been in Los Angeles, California for the last nine months.

We are glad to see these two young people advancing so much.

—Lillian Calloway.

SENIOR TO PRESENT "CHEERIO, MY DEARIO"

At 8 o'clock Friday night, May 8, a talented cast of Seniors will present the entertaining farce, "Cheerio, My Deario."

Be sure to see:

1. Louise Avent, leading lady, impersonate an English Lord and "panic" all the eligible girls.
 2. Hazel Turner cure her husband of his jealousy.
 3. Jackie Lane, wealthy heiress, a bandon her hunt for a title.
 4. Anne Odum, emotional French maid, a rival of the heiress.
 5. Frances Herring, a dominating widow, seeking a nobleman for a son-in-law.
 6. Bernice Jones, her spoiled daughter, determined to marry only for love.
 7. Emmett Barrentine, a distinctly English Lord, pursued by title-seeking women and a jealous husband.
 8. Benton Keeton, flirtatious fiancé, of Cherry (Louise Avent).
 9. James Elliott, the valet who is not what he seems.
 10. Floyd Thiesman, the husband whose jealousy is finally cured.
 11. Camille Hallam, the maid in love with—
 12. Robert Trussell, the porter, who is determined to increase his "fo' bits" to twenty-five dollars so that he will be rich enough to marry.
- The play is packed with ridiculous

WAR SETS New TEST FOR RAILROADS

IN A DECISION which calls for loyal acceptance by shippers and travelers as well as by railroaders, the War Production Board has severely curtailed the use of materials to build railway equipment. There will be no further authority to build passenger cars, and the building of locomotives and freight cars will be held below the numbers which the railroads figured as being required to meet increasing demands for transportation.

It was a choice between guns and transportation. That choice must have been exceedingly difficult to make. We know there was a fair, urgent and complete presentation of transportation requirements. The decision rested, as it had to, with those responsible for the most effective use of all our nation's resources in critical materials, manufacturing facilities and labor supply. These men have complete information regarding war production and must direct all requirements toward the maximum effort to win the war.

We all realize and agree that the needs of war come first—in transportation, as in everything else. When it becomes necessary to divert materials from transportation in order to insure an uninterrupted flow of war production, that necessity can be appreciated and will be accepted by all concerned. Then it becomes our duty as patriotic citizens to face the situation ahead of us and alter our plans accordingly.

It means that all of us engaged in railway transportation—shippers and travelers and railroaders alike—have got a harder job to do with fewer and less adequate tools than we had anticipated. That's our challenge. Our answer is that we'll buckle down and do our very utmost to meet the requirements.

The job is simply harder, not impossible. We on the Illinois Central are resolved there'll be no failure here from lack of trying.
